

Terms and Conditions to Use the Web Site of Japan Association of Rolling Stock Industries

The Japan Association of Rolling Stock Industries (JARI) operates the web site "tetsushako.or.jp" (hereinafter referred to as "the site") based on the terms and conditions specified below, which users are supposed to have agreed to when they use the site.

1. Scope of the objects covered by the terms and conditions

Scope of the objects covered by the terms and conditions is as follows;

- (1) All the data stored within the servers required to run the site.
- (2) The contents consisting of the data specified in the item (1).

2. Modification of the site contents and the terms and conditions

JARI may, without notice, modify the site contents and the terms and conditions to use them and discontinue the information providing service at the site or any part thereof.

3. Copyrights

JARI holds all the copyrights for the information provided on the site. To use, reproduce, modify, upload, post, transmit, sell or publicize the information, users are required to obtain prior written approval from JARI.

4. Links

Users can refer to the following top pages as to the link to the site:

- Japanese version: <http://www.tetsushako.or.jp/>
- English version: <http://www.tetsushako.or.jp/english/>

Users are kindly requested not to link to other pages or directly to the contents on a page.

5. Disclaimer

JARI is by no means responsible for damages resulting from the use of the site. JARI is by no means responsible for damages resulting from discontinuation or delay of the information providing service, including those due to maintenance work and failure of servers, network devices or transmission lines.

The contents of the third party web sites linked from the site are under the control of respective third party. As the introduction sentence is one information to the last, all contents of the linked web site are not guaranteed.

Please use the web site under your own responsibility.

Please refer to each web site for any question about its contacts., because JARI do not accept it.

When JARI is pointed it out that the web site on line is inappropriate from members or users, JARI examines and disposes it in case inappropriateness is included.